

20th International Clean Air and Environment Conference

Sponsorship and Trade Exhibition
Opportunities

New Zealand

Auckland
31 July—2 August 2011

We invite you to become a Sponsor and Exhibitor

On behalf of the Clean Air Society of Australia and New Zealand (CASANZ) and the 2011 Conference Organising Committee, I am delighted to invite you to participate in the 20th International Clean Air and Environment Conference and Trade Exhibition, to be held in Auckland, New Zealand on 31 July - 2 August, 2011 at the SKYCITY Auckland Convention Centre.

The Clean Air Society is the largest peak representative body for air quality and environmental management in Australia and New Zealand. CASANZ has over 800 members and includes representatives from the areas of government, private industry, science and technology, education, professional associations and private and community organisations.

The theme of the conference is: AIR QUALITY: A HEALTHY BALANCE. The conference in Auckland is expected to attract approximately 300 delegates from Australia and overseas.

The City of Auckland sprawls over a narrow isthmus between the sparkling waters of the beautiful Waitemata and Manukau Harbours. Its waterside location provides residents with extensive opportunities for enjoying numerous water activities. Auckland is known as the "City of Sails". It is a modern city enhanced by an amazing range of various outdoor leisure and adventure activities.

Auckland's personality is bold and fashionable. Everything you see, hear, taste or touch has a twist of South Pacific originality. It is the world's largest Polynesian city. In the heart of the central business district is the imposing Sky Tower, which at 328 metres is the tallest tower in the Southern Hemisphere.

The conference theme expands on the Society's commitment to the long-term improvement of the environment, and evaluates the advancements made in the field of environmental science, as well as looking towards future priority areas at both a national and international level.

The biennial conference is CASANZ's premier event, attracts an international field of participants and is an increasingly popular and high profile event. The organising committee is working to ensure that this event will build on the success of past conferences, providing stimulating speakers, lively discussions and a range of networking and social functions to appeal to all participants.

The exclusive sponsorship and exhibition opportunities offered within this event will enable your organisation to interact with delegates and decision makers, but also demonstrate your support for, and continued contribution to the challenges and opportunities of air quality management in New Zealand, Australia, and overseas.

Tracy Freeman
Chair, Conference Organising Committee

Why become a Sponsor or an Exhibitor?

As part of a strategic marketing plan, sponsoring or exhibiting at the Society's 20th International Clean Air and Environment Conference will place you directly before the delegates and key decision makers attending.

- Sponsorship provides your organisation with the perfect opportunity to establish or maintain a profile with your target audience
- Sponsorship demonstrates your commitment and support which will be openly displayed at the conference and widely acknowledged throughout the conference.

The benefits of sponsoring and exhibiting at the conference will be obvious when the opportunities offered in this package are reviewed.

The Conference Organising Committee would also be pleased to negotiate a specific sponsorship and exhibition package to accommodate any particular needs of your organisation.

Please note: All Sponsorships will be allocated on a 'first in' basis.

For more information about the 20th International Clean Air and Environment Conference, please visit the website at: www.conferenceteam.co.nz/casanz

Background on the Clean Air Society of Australia and New Zealand

The Clean Air Society of Australia and New Zealand (CASANZ) is a non-government, non-profit organisation first formed in the late 1960's to bring together people with an interest in clean air and the mechanics of air pollution. Its focus has now expanded to encompass broader environmental management affairs, but with particular reference to air quality and related issues.

The objects of the Society are to promote the protection of the environment:

- Through advancement of knowledge and practical experience of environmental and air quality management.
- By providing an organisation which may gather and distribute the experience and knowledge of its members.
- By providing lectures, seminars, exhibitions, public meetings and conferences as a forum to expand knowledge of environmental matters, especially air quality, including causes, effects, measurement, legislative aspects and control of pollution.
- By liaison with organisations with similar interests in other countries.
- By printing and publication of any paper, periodical, book or leaflet that the Society may think desirable.
- By providing scholarships, bursaries, monetary grants, awards and prizes to encourage the study of relevant subjects or disciplines.

If you require further information about CASANZ, please visit the Society's website at: www.casanz.org.au

20th CASANZ Conference Location and Venue

The City of Auckland sprawls over a narrow isthmus between the sparkling waters of the Waitemata and Manukau Harbours. Its waterside location provides residents with extensive opportunities for enjoying numerous water activities. Auckland is known as the "City of Sails".

In the heart of the central business district is the imposing Sky Tower, which at 328 metres is the tallest tower in the Southern Hemisphere. Visitors are invited to climb the apex of the Auckland Harbour Bridge for spectacular views from many of the city's natural and man-made landmarks.

A cloak of rainforest covers the surrounding hills with 48 dormant volcanic cones located in the region. Rangitoto Island and other holiday islands in the Hauraki Gulf are popular and a short ferry ride to Waiheke Island offers wine and olive tasting. Visitors may escape to the wilderness of Great Barrier Island, with bush tracks leading to natural hot springs and historic kauri tree dams.

The maximum daily temperature in Auckland during July and August is 14 degrees Celsius.

SKYCITY Auckland Convention Centre
